Your Vision

#215066073

Vision: To develop quality of life for all people.

We lead positive social change and deliver value to clients through transformation coaching, support, your health, life style change and service.

Value: We believe that each of us has the knowledge, wisdom and power within us to make our life be what we want it to be. We see the transformation coaching relationship as a relationship, a partnership, a process of inquiry that empowers clients to reconnect with their own inner wisdom, if you value your health, find their own answers, to rediscover those powerful moments of choice out of which lasting transformation that grows.

We believe we are all whole beings with whole lives and that every choice we make affects every other aspect of our lives.
Our work affects our relationships.
Our relationships touch our spirituality.
Our spiritual well-being affects our capacity for joy which affects our work and so on, round and round.
Dr. Sheilajoy, transformation coaching believes in the whole person. We believe you deserve the life you want.
